CITY AWAITS GOV. MERRIAM'S COMING ON FRIDAY

Leslie Standlea Oratorical Winner To Participate In National Competition

Getting a unanimous decision over 10 other state representatives, Leslie Standlea of Upland won the western division of the Future Farmers of America oratorical contest in Estes Park, Colorado, last night, according to word received today by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Standlea.

This victory entitles him to enter the national finals of the annual contest. This highly competitive oratorical event will be held in Kansas City this fall.

The prominent Chaffey student will return from the Colorado contest late this week, probably on Thursday.

Is California Contestant

Mr. Standlea not only represented Chaffey, but also all of California in last night's contest. He spoke in competition with representatives from each of the 10 other western states. The unanimous decision of the judges indicates an outstanding performance.

In other sections of the nation, similar oratorical contests are being held to pick the best speakers for the Kansas City finals. In that contest Mr. Standlea will be on the platform with the cream of the high school orators in the nation.

Popular Winner

In all of the contests this year, the Upland youth has been a popular winner. His oration, "What Has Chemurgy to Offer the Farmer?" is practical in its subject manner. It shows in what ways the modern advances in chemical science can help the farmer to utilize his by-products and make his staple products more profitable.

The orator's platform presentation is such that he has been widely acclaimed as the most eloquent and forceful speaker ever to represent Chaffey.

Mrs. Jensen Hears Husband on Vox Pop Program From N. Y.

Mrs. F. F. Jensen, 127 Plaza Serena, Ontario, heard her husband speak over the Vox Pop radio program from New York last night, but she would have missed it if a neighbor had not hurriedly called the program to her attention.

"The neighbor came rushing to our house to tell us of Mr. Jensen being interviewed," the Ontario woman explained this morning. "We did not have the radio on at that program, but we hurriedly tuned it and heard Mr. Jensen during most of the interview. Yes, it really was a thrill to us."

Mr. Jensen is employed by a Los Angeles concern as a salesman and he is traveling throughout the east. At the close of school Mrs. Jensen and their family of two boys and a girl will join Mr. Jensen in the east. They will travel east by auto.

MANLEY WILL GET MASTER'S DEGREE

City Manager Advances in Public Administration Study at U. S. C.

Ten years of study at night and exhaustive research work will be recognized Saturday when Richard G. Manley, city manager here, receives the degree of master of science in public administration. He will be among the University of Southern California graduates.

Unknown to the general public, Mr. Manley has been following a rigid course of study in municipal government. In 1932 he was given the degree of bachelor of science in public administration at U. S. C. For him, that was only a start toward the higher degree. Since then he has continued study along a prescribed course—all being done at night and during week ends.

"I believe it is just as important for government officials to be trained in their work as it is for officials in other lines to be trained," Mr. Manley said, in explaining why he has devoted time in meeting requirements of the course.

The school of government at U. S. C. was established about 1928. Mr. Manley was one of the first to enroll in the night school division.

His unusual interest in the extra preparation for a role in public administration has been recognized by U. S. C. authorities and by his fellow city managers in California League of Municipalities.

During June 13 to 17, U. S. C. is to hold an institute of government for city officials. Municipal employes from all over Southern California will be in attendance. Due to Mr. Manley's interest and work he has been chosen as chairman of the institute's section dealing with council-manager government.

Mr. Manley has made a study of affairs in many cities as part of his work toward the degree.

Former Residents Of Early Days in City Are Invited

Residents of Upland of years ago are invited to be present for the community's Foothill boulevard celebration Friday.

Any present Uplanders knowing of old-timers who will return for the day are requested to advise the chamber of commerce of their names. A reception committee will be active during the day in helping the visitors enjoy the day and in meeting their friends. The chamber office will be headquarters for the reunions, the general public being given an opportunity to use that office.

W. L. Hale, who for seven years was mayor of Fullerton, and who helped set out some of the first citrus trees here will come for the day and the evening banquet. It is expected that other former residents of years ago will also be present.

SAFECRACKERS IN TWO FUTILE TRYS

Two Lumber Companies Entered and Church Study Ransacked

Safe crackers and burglars were busy in Ontario last night but they obtained very little to reward them for their desperate efforts.

Apparently the same person entered the offices of the Shattuck Lumber Co. and the Clements Bros. Lumber yard and broke open the safes. Ten dollars in cash was obtained at the Shattuck office but officials of the other concern reported that nothing was lost to the burglars.

Study at the Congregational church was also ransacked without anything being stolen, Rev. Charles L. Knight reported to police.

The residence of Floyd Campbell, 636 West California boulevard, was burglarized and there a watch, a tie clasp and a cameo ring were stolen, police were advised.

J. F. Shipps, head of the Ontario police department identification bureau, obtained fingerprints at offices of the lumber companies and at the church study.

C. J. Booth Honored For Quarter Century Service at Chaffey

Members of the Chaffey junior college student body and faculty presented a handsome desk set to Director Charles Booth in token of their appreciation for his 25 years of untiring service to the institution, at a special assembly held this morning.

On the onyx base of the stand for the pen is a gold plate with the inscription, "To C. J. Booth from the Associated Students and Faculty, 1913-1938."

It was presented by George P. Weldon, representing the faculty, and Spurgeon Rothrock, president of the student body, after the reading of a sonnet dedicated to Mr. Booth and written by Ramsay Harris, college English instructor.

Firemen Called Out By Two Grass Fires

Two grass fires on vacant lots called out the Upland firemen Monday, with no damage being done in either blaze.

The first fire occurred at 10:30 in the morning at the corner of Sixth avenue and Ninth street and the second one at 2:30 p. m. at Grove avenue and East Ninth street.

The origin of the fires is not known.

YOUTH NEAR DEATH AFTER DIVE INTO WATER RESERVOIR

Glen Monroe, Ontario, Suffers Severe Head Injuries in Pomona Pool

Unconscious for six hours as the result of a severe blow on the head and almost a victim of drowning, Glen Monroe, 12-year-old Ontario youth, is today in a critical condition at the Sanborn hospital, Pomona. The youth was at the Ontario Foursquare Sunday school picnic when he and others left the group and started to swim in a nearby water reservoir at 11 a. m. yesterday. The near fatality occurred in a reservoir in the Ganesha Hills, Pomona.

The youth, accompanied by his younger brother, Loyal, and others left the Sunday school picnickers at Ganesha park to explore the hills. On reaching the reservoir, Glen is reported to have dived into the water. He hit bottom of the concrete reservoir, suffering a severe blow on the head. He was knocked unconscious.

A high fence completely surrounded the reservoir and it was with difficulty the frightened youngsters reached the swimmer, who lay motionless in the water. Finally, Marshall Lee climbed the fence and jumped into the water. The injured youth's head was held above the water until additional help was obtained.

Joe Bivens made use of the life saving course he had learned as an Ontario Boy Scout and after considerable efforts partially resusciated the swimmer.

Monroe was rushed to the Sanborn hospital. He regained consciousness at 6 o'clock last night, after he had been under a pulmotor six hours.

While the lad is reported to be out of danger from effects of the blow, he is now threatened with pneumonia, according to the Rev. Nina Becker, pastor of the church.

The picnickers had assembled in Ganesha park for a day's outing. The public pool at the park was not open and it is reported a group left to investigate the reservoir high up in the Ganesha hills. Water in the reservoir was estimated to be about five feet deep.

Apparently without examining the depth of the water, the Monroe youth plunged into the reservoir. When his head struck bottom, the swimmer became motionless. Promptness on the part of the Lee youth and the ability of the Bivens youth in administering first aid are believed responsible for saving the swimmer's life.

Monroe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Monroe, South Dessau street, Ontario.

REPUBLICANS TO SELECT CANDIDATE

Assembly Nominee Will Be Chosen at Public Party Meeting Tonight

Something on the order of a "Grass Roots" convention will be held by Republicans in the west end of the county tonight. An important meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Armstrong hall, over the Armstrong Nursery building, Ontario.

Selection of a candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman is the principal object of the meeting. Since a week ago, a nominating committee has been interviewing prospective candidates. It is expected this committee will have a list of available candidates. Those present tonight will have a voice in selecting a candidate.

Allan S. Barr, one of the local leaders in the County Republican Central committee, today urged all persons who attended the recent grass roots convention in Riverside to attend tonight's meeting. He also urged all other interested Republicans to be present. W. W. Stevens of Upland will preside.

RUTH ANN BRIDGE WINS FIRST PLACE IN PEACE ORATORY

Three Outstanding Speakers in Annual Crombie Allen Contest at Rotary

One of the outstanding annual events of the Upland Rotary club is the peace oratory contest sponsored by that outstanding Rotarian, Crombie Allen, whose interest in world peace—one of the objects of Rotary International — years ago prompted him to donate a fund for these contests among Chaffey students, the finals of which are staged at a meeting of the Upland club.

That contest was held today. At the start of this contest among Chaffey high school students this year there were about forty contestants. Eliminations brought the number to the customary three who compete for final honors. In today's contest were the following, who spoke on the subjects named: Ruth Ann Bridge, "Blessed Are the Peacemakers;" Marian Hartley, "Peace For Posterity;" Richard Newton, "Let's Make Neutrality an Issue." By vote of the Upland Rotarians Miss Bridge was given first place, Miss Hartley second and Mr. Newton third—and besides the honor that goes with the awards also goes a check to each from the fund provided by Crombie Allen.

Gardiner W. Spring, president of Chaffey, was program chairman and presented the speakers. Miss Lois LeBarron Avery, who for years has instructed and drilled students along these lines at Chaffey, was a guest of the club. Harlow S. Wilson, club secretary, announced the winners and in most appropriate words presented the checks to the contestants.

Neil Hickcox, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting.

Chaffey Band Will Play in the Foothill Boulevard Program

Chaffey's talented, colorful band will present a brief concert just prior to the Foothill boulevard celebration Friday afternoon. The band, under the direction of Murray Owen, leader, will appear at Foothill boulevard and Euclid avenue at 3:15 p. m. It will play several selections prior to the start of the program.

This will be the Chaffey band's last appearance in Upland d the current school year. The famous musical group has a large following here and its appearance is expected to be widely received.

FORMER GOVERNOR ONTARIO VISITOR

Friend Richardson Plans To Spend Short Vacation In District

Mrs. Friend Richardson, wife of the former governor, is a visitor today in Ontario and on Thursday she will be joined by Mr. Richardson, the ex-governor and present state bank examiner. They expect to be in this district indefinitely, staying at the Atchley apartments, Euclid avenue, Ontario.

Miss Hazel Wood is a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and they will visit her. Miss Wood, however, is leaving soon, but the distinguished couple will continue to reside at the apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Breashears of 520 First avenue spent the week end at Sequoia National park, and were thrilled at seeing the giant trees, one of which was said to contain enough lumber to build 40 five-room houses. The round trip was about 600 miles. They found considerable snow in the mountains; on some roads the snow came as high as the car door.

Foothill Boulevard Program

With a special platform placed on Foothill boulevard at Euclid avenue, a program will be presented here Friday at 3:30 p. m. The general public is urged to attend. The program, which will be broadcast over a public address system through the courtesy of the Colborn Electric Co., is as follows:

J. B. Gill, San Bernardino, president of Foothill Boulevard association, brief remarks.

Earl Lee Kelley, state director of public works, brief remarks.

Introduction of E. Q. Sullivan, state highway engineer.

Presentation of Mayor D. J. Cameron and Assemblyman Godfrey Andreas.

Address by Governor Frank F. Merriam. He will conclude the program by clipping a ribbon stretched across Foothill boulevard, to formally mark completion of the widening project.

Other visiting state officials and persons interested in the project may be in attendance and introduced.

WELFARE LEAGUE ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Douglas Sage Chosen President—Serum Fund Is Sponsored

Election of officers and a decision to sponsor a pneumonia serum fund for San Antonio Community hospital featured the meeting of the Upland Junior Welfare League held Friday at Red Hill Country club.

Mrs. Douglas Sage was elected president of the League to succeed the retiring president Mrs. L. Dudley Phillips, under whose leadership the organization's welfare activities have been conducted with marked success during the past year.

Other officers elected are: Mrs. Fred E. Parker, vice-president; Mrs. Ted Stamm, secretary, and Mrs. Hal Harlow, treasurer.

The business session was preceded by a luncheon and pleasant social hour held as a courtesy for two new members, Mrs. Harland Goodrich and Mrs. Geo. T. Keyes.

Mrs. Phillips presided during the business meeting and annual reports were made by Mrs. Beecher Hungerford, treasurer, and Mrs. Nelson Gray, chairman of the Welfare shop.

The dental clinic report sent by Mrs. W. Leland Scheu was of particular interest, since the dental clinic was the League's major project during the year. The report showed that with the generous cooperation of local dentists, the clinic had provided dental service for 200 children at a cost of $583. This service was given for children in all the Upland schools and in the three schools in Cucamonga and Alta Loma.

The Welfare shop has enabled many persons to secure clothing they would have been unable to purchase at regular prices, usually only a few cents being charged for a garment. The shop always welcomes any contributions of used clothing for men, women and children. Household supplies and other articles also are needed.

Concerning the pneumonia serum fund, the League members, mindful of the fact that the high cost of the serum makes it prohibitive in many cases, decided to sponsor a fund for the maintenance of a sufficient supply to be used for those who lack the means to provide the treatment. The members voted to contribute $250 to the fund, provided the hospital will supply a like amount.

Present for the meeting were Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Douglas Sage, Mrs. Geo. West Barrett, Mrs. Otto Christensen, Mrs. Nelson Gray, Mrs. Hal Harlow, Mrs. Willets Hole, Mrs. Beecher Hungerford, Mrs. Huber Kalbach, Mrs. Keith Koehler, Mrs. Fred E. Parker, Mrs. David N. Seares, Mrs. Ted Stamm, Mrs. Wallace Stoebe, Mrs. Webster H. Thomas, Mrs. A. B. Van Fleet and Mrs. Walter Welge.

Close Stores For Foothill Program, Goodban Suggests

That Upland stores close during the Foothill boulevard celebration program Friday afternoon is the suggestion today of James E. Goodban, chairman of the Upland Businessmen's association. The closing hours are suggested from 3:15 p. m. to after the program, which will be about 4:15 p. m.

With the stores closed, all the local interest can be centered on this city's observance of the gigantic Foothill boulevard project. The clerks, as well as the store proprietors can be permitted to attend the program, if the closing plan is carried out, Mr. Goodban said.

Gov. Frank Merriam's address will climax the program.

Mrs. Bert Curtis of Washingtonville, Ohio, mother of Mrs. E. C. Rosenberger, died Sunday morning according to word received here by the local family. Funeral services were held in her home city today. Members of Mrs. Curtis' family lived in that community.

FOOTHILL EVENT TO INCLUDE TWO PROGRAMS IN DAY

Upland is today ready to unite on Friday in the celebration of the Foothill widening project.

Two distinct programs are being planned on that day to commemorate the completion of the project.

Foothill Program

The first program will be held at 3:30 p. m. on Foothill boulevard at Euclid avenue with Governor Frank F. Merriam as the principal speaker. The general public is urged to attend. It is suggested that Upland stores close during the celebration from 3:15 to approximately 4:15 p. m. on Friday.

A public address system, provided by the Colborn Electric Co., will be in use to enable everyone to hear the brief talks.

Other persons besides Governor Merriam will speak briefly. As the closing feature of the ceremonies, the governor will clip the ribbon stretched across Foothill to formally mark the boulevard the longest four-lane thoroughfare in the state. Traffic on Foothill will be diverted from Euclid avenue during the program.

Evening Banquet

The other program on Friday will be in the Upland Woman's club house at 6:30 p. m. A banquet will be served. This event will bring together many long time Upland residents and many persons who have come to the community in more recent years.

The evening program will be of a local historical character, but of vital interest to everyone in the community. Remarks concerning the early days in Upland will be given by half a dozen "old timers." C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, and who has been an Upland resident for many years, will be the concluding speaker. P. H. McQuillen will be master of ceremonies. Rollin F. Lemon, president of the Upland chamber of commerce, will preside at the afternoon program and evening banquet. Ticket reservations for the banquet must be made by 5 o'clock tomorrow at the Upland chamber of commerce office.

Speakers Named

Among the local speakers on Upland's early history at the banquet will be Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mrs. J. L. Grahame, Paul Bodenhamer, Frank C. Buffington and George T. Stamm. Charles D. Adams, who has been in Upland since 1884, and who named "Upland," will also be presented. He is nearing his 94th birthday anniversary.

Those attending the banquet will be seated in accordance with their length of residence in the community. Those who came prior to 1900 will be in one group, those who came from 1900 to 1913 will be in another group and those who arrived during the last 25 years will be in the third group. Those in the group coming prior to 1900 will be introduced.

Registration will be obtained of all persons present, this being kept as an historical record of the event. A shorthand record will also be taken of all the remarks of the early residents, this also being for historical purposes.

First Application From Solicitor Is Filed Here Today

This city's recently enacted law requiring solicitors to obtain a permit from the police department was the result of an application being on file today.

An employe of the Pomona Granite Co. was the first to formally file an application for the privilege of contacting local people. The law, however, does not become effective until June 18, one month after the ordinance was adopted by the council.

Couples—Happy and Unhappy

Coming right upon us now is the month of June—that period which has been hailed these many years as the month of brides and roses. Of course, when a wedding is spoken of it is also supposed to include a groom as well as a bride—although, judging by the mention and attention he gets, the groom is merely incidental and does not cut much figure. He is simply an "also ran". However, it is impossible to have a wedding without him.

And of interest at this time—bringing up the rear like a wise but doting uncle—comes the well timed report of the Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles. This report contains much "food for thought", as the Institute has been studying 374 couples who classify themselves as unhappy—and 436 other couples who enjoy only "run of the mill" happiness. If there were any "extremely happy" couples that fact does not seem to be mentioned in the report. But here is what the studies revealed: Love at first sight marriages occurred eight times as often among those who considered themselves unhappily married—while couples who declared they possessed the average degree of happiness knew each other longer than twenty months before they were married.

So, there's the warning, young friends. Don't let the spell of June wedding atmosphere get the best of you—you had better be somewhat skeptical of that "love at first sight" inspiration and let Father Time help you make up your mind. In a great majority of instances it is much better to know something about the person you are marrying. The record shows that kind of marriages last longer as a rule. There have been instances where couples changed their minds about getting married after they got real well acquainted.

There are apparently far too many who do not take the matter of marriage as a serious matter. Judging by the results in the way of quick divorces, far too many figure marriage an a la Hollywood affair—they marry in haste and get divorced just as hastily. With all the seriousness and beauty of the average marriage ceremony, it is not easy to conceive how so many couples forget so soon the vows they took on their wedding day. Marriage should be the ideal life. For those who seek happiness in that way and realize there must be more or less "give and take" throughout the journey together there is happiness—for those who do not, there is almost certain to be wreckage strewn along the way and the venture will end "on the rocks".

One of the most misleading claims of some manufacturers and jobbers is that they can either sell cheaper or give you more value for the money because their product does not have an advertising campaign charged up against it. The News has pointed out the fallacy of this argument a number of times—emphasizing that the cost per item is not only low, but that it is more than made up in the savings effected by the volume production resulting from advertising. A short time ago we read some concrete figures on advertising cost—and they should be interesting to all who hold to the opinion that advertising causes the buyer to pay more for what he gets. On a shirt costing $1.95, the advertising expense is 64-100 of 1 cent. A nationally known breakfast food charges up 3-10 of one cent per 15 cent package. The cost on a 12 cent can of a most widely advertised soup is 36-1000 of one cent. Probably the best known and most widely advertised soft drink has a cost of 1576-100,000 of a cent on a 5 cent glass or bottle. The advertising cost of a well known brand of bread is less than the cost of the wrapper per loaf. Stop the advertising on these products and the volume would fall to the point where it could not be sold so cheaply.

"Add dignity to your business", Wm. G. Bonelli, new member of the board of equalization, California's regulatory body, told some two hundred liquor dealers at a conference in Los Angeles recently. Regarding which statement National Voice comments: "Dignity—it's what the booze publications are advocating for the trade, yet it is the very first thing that alcohol destroys in its victim. Dignity—it's the first thing that slips when a normally refined woman tipples a little, when her hat gets knocked awry, and giggles nonsense at a stranger sitting next to her at the bar. Dignity—it's the first thing a young girl loses as she sips cocktails at a swanky bar—but not usually the last thing. Dignity—who ever saw a staggering drunk who had any?" No further comment needed.

"We've never been surprised at anything a scientist does or tries to do—but we almost were the other day when we read that one is diligently trying to determine whether or not an egg has a memory," says the Hemet News. There are eggs—and eggs, you know, human and chicken, etc. Perhaps the scientist above referred to is studying some of the "bad eggs" of the human variety, who in some instances seem to have poor memories.

After many, many years Thomas Jefferson has finally gotten his face on the great American nickel. We don't expect to get our face on the nickel after we're dead—but we are quite desirous of getting our hands on as many of them as possible before we "shove off".

"I don't think we can get anywhere fighting each other," Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is quoted as saying. It would be a great thing for the country if the President would see things that way—and let up in his opposition to business.

Don't call 'em "soda jerkers" any longer. They have now become "fountaineers"—because soda fountain operation requires both skill and sales ability, according to backers of the movement. So—they have "graduated" into a profession.

Gasoline taxes in the states of the nation amounted to $761,998,000 in 1937—so we read. That's an average of $25.74 for each car and truck registered at the end of the year. Did you run your gas buggy enough to pay your share of the tax?

World production of shoes is estimated at one billion pairs annually. That seems a very low estimate to us—seemed as though the feminine section of our family must have used about half that many during a year.

A man in New York recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday by running backward for three miles. He's got nothing on the present national administration—they've been running the country backward for more than five years.

He got it.

New Headquarters of State Farm Bureau

Ground has been broken today for the construction of the new state headquarters of the California Farm Bureau Federation at Berkeley, and the permanent home for the officers, members of the board of directors and staff of the organization which is represented by a membership of 25,000 farm families will be formally occupied this fall.

During the past 20 years, the Federation has maintained its principal offices on the campus of the University of California; one department was housed in San Francisco and another in the business section of Berkeley.

The new Farm Bureau building will now house under one roof the entire state personnel of the organization, including executive and administration offices, research law and utilities, legal, organization, publications and publicity departments.

The dedicatory exercises this fall, according to present plans, will include the sealing of the names of 1938 Farm Bureau members from 43 counties in the cornerstone of the new building.

Close cooperation is maintained between the California Farm Bureau Federation, its 43 county Farm Bureaus and their 500 Farm Centers, and the Agricultural Extension Service of the College of Agriculture of the University of California.

Membership in the organization represents jointly the Farm Center unit, the county Farm Bureau unit, the California Farm Bureau Federation, and the American Farm Bureau Federation, the latter representing 40 state Federations and approximately 2,000 county units, with an aggregate membership in excess of 500,000 farm families.

R. O. Price of Upland, president of the San Bernardino County Farm Bureau, is chairman of the citrus department of the State Farm Bureau Federation.

FREE BOOK REVIEW AT LIBRARY FRIDAY

Mrs. Clifford Scrogin Is To Be Guest Reviewer On Friday Night

W. L. White's "What People Said," the book that is destined, according to critics, to win even a greater popularity than did "Main Street", will be reviewed on Friday evening at 7:30 at the Upland public library, it is announced by Mrs. Geo. W. West, member of the library staff, who has charge of the monthly free book reviews held in the Sarah Temple junior library room.

The guest reviewer will be Mrs. Clifford Ganor Scrogin of Ontario, who has previously appeared at the review hour with marked success.

Her interpretation of the new book, which already is being widely discussed, is certain to be of special interest to her audience. Adding interest to the book is the fact that the author is the son of the renowned William Allen White and his varied and colorful career is reflected in the atmosphere of his book.

The second part of the program, as usual, will be Mrs. West's discussion of a few of the large number of new books being added to the library shelves this month. Hugh Wilson's "Education of a Diplomat", "Promenade", a story of the colonization of New Zealand, by J. B. Lancaster, and "Escape to the Andes", a somewhat fantastic, or at least a peculiar story by Rupert Croft-Cooke that is being widely read, are the books Mrs. West has selected for her reviews.

The public is cordially invited to attend these free reviews.

Unemployment Act Funds Distributed

Unemployed workers of California who are subject to the Unemployment Reserves Act received 233,655 compensation benefit checks during the month of April, according to announcement by John S. Horn, Los Angeles, representative of labor on the California Unemployment Reserves Commission.

Horn said these checks totaled $2,229,809.33, indicating distribution of this amount in all sections of the state.

"This two and a quarter million dollars is a large item in the business activity of California," he declared.

Acting on orders from Governor Frank F. Merriam, the Commission ordered check production stepped up to a maximum, Horn said, and checks are being written at the preseit time as fast as certifications can be cleared.

During April, a total of 2509 checks, adding up to $24,241.19, were distributed by the Unemployment Reserves Commission in San Bernardino county.

MANY OLD-TIMERS SIGN FOR BANQUET

Reservation List Today Reveals Large Gathering Friday Evening

That many long time residents of Upland as well as many other persons will be at the community banquet Friday night is indicated today in the list of reservations.

Due to the wide interest in the event, the deadline for making reservations has been advanced to Wednesday at 5 p. m. It will be necessary at that time, however, to notify the Upland Woman's club of the number that will be present. All persons planning to attend are therefore urged to immediately make reservations at the Upland chamber of commerce office.

Indications point to approximately 200 persons being in attendance. A complete roster of persons at the banquet will be made. In the following list are names of "old timers" who have made reservations and the year in which they came to the community indicated:

Miss Bertha Palmer, 1892; Mrs. C. W. Hall, 1900; John Fossett, 1894; L. R. Bradlay, 1898; G. A. Hanson, 1888; Mrs. R. C. Williams, 1896; Mrs. Adda Bradford Manker, 1884; Fletcher Manker, 1888; Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Andreas, 1896; Mrs. H. O. Blohm, 1887; Mrs. Eva G. Moore, 1887; Mrs. Maude L. Grahame, 1887; Milton Huxtable, 1895; Mrs. Maude Brogan, 1892; Mrs. Flora Allen, 1894; Paul Bodernamer, 1883.

George Stamm, 1887; R. G. Manley, 1890; Ruth Crane, 1898; H. C. Kennedy, 1897; Frank C. Buffington, 1883; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson, 1897, and Charles D. Adams, 1984.

This is not a complete list of those who have registered, merely those who have been here for at least 38 years, the figures being obtained from the information at the chamber office. Also registered are many who have come here in recent years.

Mrs. D. T. Lappin of Monrovia, sister of Mrs. William Littlewood of San Antonio Heights, who has been ill for several days, is slightly improved today. She is suffering from an attack of acute bronchitis. Mrs. Littlewood is spending most of her time with her sister.

NEW HOUSES ARE BEING STARTED

May Building Activity Sets Mark in Residential Construction

May's building activity in Upland almost establishes a new record from the standpoint of new house construction. Three new residences were started this month, the latest building permit being issued to DeVon Francisco, who will erect a residence at 443 Ninth avenue.

Mr. Francisco is employed by the city of Upland. It so happens that the other two new houses started this month are also for city employes—Edward E. Gray, city attorney, and E. E. Carter, member of the police department.

Total value of the building permits issued this month is $20,239. This makes a 1938 total of $46,785. While these figures are not large, comparatively, they are significant in that most of the year's total represents the value of new houses started since Jan. 1.

In spite of the large total for this month, the total for the first five months this year is below the total of the same five months in 1937. The 1937 total up to June 1 was $49,966. During May of last year the building permit total was only $2,434.

Another significant fact in this year's building total is that the number of permits is 58, larger than the number of permits for 1937. The larger number of permits indicates that many more people are involved in the building activity.

In addition to new houses, several of the permits are for extensive remodelling and general repairing of residences.

These figures are only for the building activity within the Upland city limits. If all the building activity in the Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga district were included, the figures would be much larger. More new houses are being built in the outlying communities now than at any time for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCord (nee Fannie Gay) returned to Upland Saturday night after a month's motor trip. They visited Yellowstone park, other points in Montana, in Idaho and other northwest attractions. Among the diversions they went bear hunting north of Yellowstone park.

Review of Books At Local Library

"Old Williamsburg"
By Mrs. F. H. Manker

How true it is that there is nothing new under the sun! "Sit-down strikes" were known—and working or workable—over 300 years ago, and in Virginia, at that.

Following the massacre of 350 of the total population of 1258 of the Virginia colony, "an incident occurred which perhaps we should note as long as we are interested in historical beginnings," says William O. Stevens, the author of "Old Williamsburg". "On the north side of Black river, where it joins the James river and near the isthmus connecting Jamestown with the mainland, a little factory was set up for making glass. Certain Italian workmen were imported to get the industry going. But they were not satisfied with Virginia's 'christall rivers and odoriferous woods', and wanted to go home to their olive oil and garlic. When their demand for a return passage left their employers cold, they inaugurated what was the first sit-down strike in America, aggravated by sabotage. By diligent use of a crowbar they wrecked the glass ovens beyond repair. They were sent home at last to get rid of them, but George Sandys, treasurer of the colony, made no secret of what he thought of them. 'A more damned crew,' he wrote, 'hell never vomited.'

Up to 1619 it had been the style for wiseacres in London to ridicule Jamestown, but eventually the colonists got up spunk enough to answer back. John Pory, in a letter to Sir Dudley Carleton, said: "Nowe that your Lordship may knowe that we are not the veriest beggars in the world, our cowe-keeper here of James City (Jamestown) on Sundays goes accoutered all in fresh flaming silke, and a wife of one that in England had professed the black arte, not of a schollar but of a collier of Croyden, wears her rough bever hatt Yorktown itself, make the "Cradle with a faire perle hatband, and a silken suite thereto correspondent."

The restoration of Williamsburg, the saving of Jamestown, and restoration of the fortifications at of the Republic" a national Mecca. Motorists from every corner of the country now come to see and travel on this superb parkway from Yorktown to Jamestown through Williamsburg. A pilgrimage should start from Fredericksburg. Historic churches, early homes and gardens, the capitol where Patrick Henry delivered his famous oration, the College of William and Mary, may be seen along the way. A most delightful book to read if going; to review if one has taken the trip, or just to read for pleasure.

MATHER TELLS OF WAY TO REALIZE PERMANENT PEACE

Memorial Day Speaker Bases Appeal on Lincoln's Idea Of Justice

By righting the injustices that exist, by providing greater opportunities for all and by observing Lincoln's principle of "malice toward none and charity toward all," a just and lasting peace can be realized, Wiley W. Mather declared in a thought - provoking Memorial day address yesterday. His inspiring patriotic appeal climaxed the impressive observance of Memorial day.

Without any Civil war veteran present, hundreds of people in the Chaffey district paid honor to the memory of the nation's war heroes. This was the first Memorial day program here without a G. A. R. member. Since the observance a year ago, Alois Podrasnik, the last survivor, has died. A riderless horse in the colorful parade on Euclid avenue gave mute evidence that time has taken its toll among the veterans.

Offers Question

Speaking from the platform on the quadrangle of the Chaffey campus, Mr. Mather alluded to the fact that Mr. Podrasnik had gone and then questioned: "What can we do to achieve a just and lasting peace and to fulfill the ideals of the war veterans?"

Mr. Mather, who is recognized as an outstanding educator and speaker, suggested first that America correct internal disorders and then improve its international relations.

Concerning national affairs, he suggested more strict adherence to the principles of justice, removal of many economic injustices, providing greater opportunities for citizens, fair dealing in all matters, a "long range" view of all problems and "forgetting of petty differences and jealousies."

"If we cannot keep peace at home among ourselves, we cannot play the role of peacemaker in world affairs," he continued.

International Problem

Turning to America's place in international affairs, Mr. Mather urged more liberal trade relations, easier access to raw products througout the world, and a stabilized currency.

The League of Nations failed, Mr. Mather said, because of the "injustices of revenge." Lincoln's idealism of peace was urgently supported as a program acceptable for today's problems.

The varied patriotic program on the Chaffey campus followed a parade, one of the most attractive ever presented on Memorial day. Throngs lined Euclid avenue to view the inspiring procession. H. A. Cramer of Upland was grand marshal.

O'Brien Presides

F. E. O'Brien presided at the campus program. He introduced representatives of all the patriotic groups in the community. Patriotic musical selections were presented by the Chaffey band and the Chaffey High School Harmony club. Paul Smith of Upland delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address. In a brief, eloquent address, Herschel R. Griffin paid a tribute to the G. A. R. H. J. Clewett led in a salute to the flag.

Mr. O'Brien commended the work of the Memorial day committee, which included: H. A. Cramer, Col. H. J. Caldwell, W. E. Hicks, Sam Wickersham, H. T. Goslin and Roy E. Sachs, parade; Gardiner W. Spring, program; Mrs. Laura Holsclaw, chairman of decorations; Mrs. Lillian Zenz and Mrs. Frank Martens, publicity, and O. O. Boyd, ushers.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

Attaend Peace Conference

Miss Mary McGilvra and the Rev. Wm. A. Tieck, pastor of the Cucamonga Community church, motored to Hollywood Saturday and attended a peace conference at which Kirby Page, widely known author and lecturer on international affairs, was the speaker. Because of his wide range of information and his thorough understanding of conditions in the various countries, Mr. Page was given four assignments on the program and he made many addresses on different phases of the international situation. The conference was sponsored by the Fellowship of Reconciliation, an international organization working toward a friendly understanding between nations.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Keyes of Hermosa avenue, Alta Loma, recently enjoyed a three days visit in Pasadena with their daughter, Mrs. H. L. Parker and family. During the visit Mrs. Parker's birthday club honored her with a party at the home of one of the members and Mrs. Keyes had the pleasure of being one of the guests.

The Cucamonga Community church was represented by a large group of young people at the carnival held Saturday evening on the grounds of the First Methodist church in Ontario by the Methodist Pomona Valley Alliance of Young People. Attending from the Cucamonga church were Jack and Janet Beattie, Phillip Capen, Eugene Giachino, Cecil Hall, Helen Hawker, Vernon and Clark MacPherson, Wilda Naillon, Dorothy Jean and Jack Perdew, Prudence and Crystal Relph and Elma Williamson.

Questions Asked by Librarian; Who Can Give the Answers?

Who asked for "John of the Mountains" A request for that book was left with the librarian at the Upland public library but the slip was mislaid and the staff members are unable to find who requested the book. Please call Mrs. Manker.

John Muir will always live, as long as there is life in the American forests. He was the patriarch of American lovers of mountains and had a wonderful power of interpretation of them, so say numerous admirers of the nature lover.

"John of the Mountains", the unpublished journals of John Muir, have recently been edited by Linnie Marsh Wolfe. They cover a period of 42 years, 1869 to 1911. They begin when Muir, as a young man, came to California. His long battle for forest control and particularly the founding of the national forests, are some of the things that will endear him to Californians.

Magazine? Magazine? Who has the magazine, Readers' Digest? At the expense of the library some borrower is receiving (?) the above magazine each month after it is checked in. It wouldn't be so bad if it were returned after it is read. To keep it so no one else can have the pleasure of reading it, is what hurts.

Fish Hatchery at Mill Creek Leased

Of interest to local sportsmen will be the announcement that the Dolly Vardeh club fish hatchery in Mill creek has been leased by the state fish and game commission. Young fish will be propagated at the hatchery for distribution to streams.

Dave L. Vasbinder said that the fish would probably not be ready for distribution until this fall.

As time passes one realizes more clearly just why Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., referred to his distant cousin, Franklin, as a "maverick."

Low Rates Will Be Given For Trip To Sequoia Dedication

That many persons from this district are planning to attend the dedication of the Susan B. Anthony tree in Sequoia national park on June 26, is indicated by the number of inquiries being made concerning transportation.

Mrs. Una R. Winter of East Ninth street, who is vice-chairman of the Susan B. Anthony memorial committee of California, has issued a bulletin giving an outline of the program to be followed in the dedication of the giant tree in honor of the originator of the equal suffrage movement. The bulletin also contains other information with reference to the dedication.

Concerning transportation for those who do not plan to drive up, Motor Transit stages will go directly to Sequoia park, if a sufficient number of reservations are made.

One of more stages will leave from Pomona, Ontario and Upland, through Pasadena, Los Angeles and other places along the route if the reservations warrant. The stages will leave Saturday morning, June 25, and will return Sunday, June 26. A low round trip fare can be secured for 25 reservations. Information concerning the rates may be secured from Mrs. Adelaide H. Plum, assistant secretary of the Upland chamber of commerce.

New Policeman Will Join Force Tomorrow

William Schneider, Chaffey graduate, will tomorrow join the ranks of the Upland police department.

His addition to the local force of protective officers recently approved by the city council, Mr. Schneider will become a night patrolman. His addition will mean that Officer P. H. Evans will no longer have to patrol the outlying districts alone.

It is Chief Mehl's plan to have Officer Ralph Palmer accompany Officer Evans in the patrol car and for Mr. Schneider to patrol the downtown area.
